General Rules On

Diving Pay WASHINGTON CAP+ - The comptroller general has decided a vessel that dives seven miles and maneuvers on the bottom of the sea isn't really a submarine
--and therefore a Navy officer aboard isn't entitled to extra submarine pay. A ruling by the nation's chief auditor means that Navy Lt. Don Walsh can't collect the pay that goes to all other Navy men while aboard an operating submarine of any kind, the unofficial but auhoritative Army Navy Air Force Journal disclosed Friday.

Walsh, with civilian scientisti Jacques Piccard, took the bathyscaph Trieste down to the bottom of the Pacific during a series of dives last January. They reached a depth of 35,800 feet, a world

For that hazardous feat, Pres ident Eisenhower pinned the Legion of Merit on Walsh and the Navy asked that he be granted submarine duty extra pay.

The 35,800-foot dive, if may be pointed out, compares with an operating depth for other Navy submersibles that is measured only in hundreds instead of tens of thousands of feet.

An official Navy spokesman, when asked by newsmen about the comptroller's decision, said: The Navy still is convinced that this is hazardous duty and intends to do everything it can to see that Lt. Walsh gets hazardous duty pay."

In turning down the Navy's request to permit extra hazard pay for Walsh, the comptroller general was quoted by the Journal. as saying, among other things, that extra submarine pay is made for duty aboard an "armed com-

Records indicate that the Navy has several unarmed submarines whose crews draw extra submarine pay. Among these are the Archerfish and Albacore, which are used in research and development and oceanographic studies. Walsh's regular pay is about $480 per month. The extra hazard pay for submarine duty would add $190 to that.

'Aggressor' Accusations

The Soviet Union has managed to bring the case of the U-2 airplane before the United Nations with recommendationed that the United States be condemned as an "aggressor."

Here is a case of Russia smarting over wounds of the past and trying to throw this country in an equally bad light. Following the Hungarian uprising in 1956, Russian troops with heavy artillery invaded that country in order to mush the revolt. Subsequent action in the United Nations branded Soviet Russia an aggressor.

Since that time. Russia has had little use for the United Nations and her loss in prestige was felt keenly by the Kromlin. Now, they are pressing for a similar label to he pinned on the United States.

· the idea our loss of face in world affairs may help them regain theirs.

The word "aggressor" is the key to Soviet aims in the case. Naturally, the Soviet Union with its iron curtain philosophy does not like the kiek of successful spy penetration of any sort. But the charge huried at the United States is not espionage, but aggression.

This puts the cold war in a new atmosphere. For many years, it was wondered why our Central Intelligence Agency ran so far short of Russia in the business of gathering information. In this sense, it was rather reassuring to learn that U-2 flights were being made.

For the so-called "struggle for mens' minds," however, Russia is striving to show the world the United States has violated her borders as an aggressor.

Many are now recalling Hitler's tacties of "the big lie" as Khrushchev stretches a point to compare the flight of a single, non-military airplane over Russia to the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. The conclusion that one dictator is very much like another should have been noted much soon-

It is, perhaps, unfortunate that President Eisenhower offered a guarantee that intelligence flights over the Soviet Union would stop. In the matter of spy-planting, no such assurance came from Russia. and that nation has seen at least a dozen of its spies eaught in this country over the past seven years.

It is highly important that the American people develop an awareness of the intentions of the Soviet Union to gain propaganda value from the U-2 incident and at the same time shame the United States into curtailing its intelligence pro-

We cannot afford to let them gain a footing by fanning the incident into a domestic political bat-

As for aggressive actions and intentions, there is little doubt that it is Russia, not the United States, who fits the pattern.

Tourist Courts Grow Up

How many people can remember tourist courts?

The best anyone can do these days in looking in a telephone directory for tourist courts is finding this becal: "Tourist Courtssee Motels."

hotels, cost just as much and are located in the hearts of big cities. New Orleans has a 265-room motel being constructed near the city's civic center. Houston has two in the heart of town.

in Chicago, the classified telephone directory lists 25 motels within the city limits, all of them bull since 1953.

One of the plushest is the 12story Lake Tower motel, just north of the Loop on Lake Shore drive. It contains 150 units, cost $3,500.-000 to build, and claims the disfinction of being the world's tallest

The Lake Tower's manager. Robert A. Jenkins, managed hotels for 26 years, but he says he "saw the hand-writing on the wall" and went into the motel business.

An $8,000,000 motel, the Jack Tar, is planned for downtown San Francisco. It will have 400 rooms.

Jenkin's said hotel occupancy rates fell from 93 per cent in 1946 to 70 per cent in 1957, with most of the lost business going to the

If motels are 12 stories tall, if they have 400 rooms and if they are located in downtown areas. what is the difference between them and hotels?

About the only difference now. as far as anyone can tell, is that the motels provide free parking space, near the rooms. Most motels in rural areas or the suburbs allow Nowadays, many motels look like—the motorists to drive up to the door of the rooms they occupy. Unless you want it, there is no porter or bellboy service, no tipping and no contact with the management or personnel after a room has been obtained and the fee has been paid. There's no checking out and you leave when you please.

> City motels are certain to be more like hotels than those in the suburban areas. Undoubtedly. parking and obtaining of cars must be done by attendants, as parking is done in buildings several stories

Since the city motels have moved far in the direction of the botels and have encroached upon their business, in most cases it will be fairly easy for the hotels to move into the motel class. About all they need to do now is to provide adequate, nearby, free parking space and keep the attendants away from the customers, so the feeling that a tip is required won't be pre-

In other words, town motels will be hotels and hotels soon will be town motels, with the customer given the choice of what kind of service he wants - namely personal service or waiting on him-

Idleness And License

Idleness, ease and license probable have caused more juvenile delinquency than all other fancied problems combined.

In words that are filled with truth. Shane McCarthy, executive director of the President's Council on Youth Fitness, said:

"Youth wants discipline and adults give them ease. Youth craves activity and adults manufacture idleness for them.

"Why should they walk when we make it so easy for them to ride? Why should they stand when they can sit? Or use energy when they can flop?"

The sense of insecurity springs from inactivity, both physical and mental. Only accomplishment can give a sense of well-being.

Children need tremendous expenditure of energy, both mental and physical, in order to develop. If this is denied them in healthful, wholesome ways, they will get it in undersirable ways. Work is a great panacea for both children and Bird Sanctuary

80 Per Cent Of Camps For Children Troubled By Plants

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have read your column regularly and enjoyed it for the past few years. but I have never read a discussion of poison by.

Don't you think it is important enough to tell us about? I am in my 20's and it has been ruining my summers for the last four or live years, Mr. Y., Missouri.

ANSWER: I know what you mean. Poison by runed quite a iew of my vacations when I was

Our Boy Scout troop used to go camping for two weeks every summer. The site was a wooded area on the edge of a lake. Year after year I'd have a wonderful time during the first week and be laid up during the second week with a full - blown case of poison used to consider myself fortunate because the attack didn't come during the first week and ruin my entire vacation. There were no means of preventing And treatment was haphaza / Wet applications, and all kincs of ointments. After a few weeks of intense itching and other discomfort, the messy inflammation cleared up.

I have been reading some statistics which, because of personal experience, seem about right. A national survey of more than 10.-000 summer camps for children shows that 80 per cent of all such camps have trouble with poisonous plants. Of these camps 41 per cent report interference with camp activities: and 29 per cent report it necessary to send some with children home because the skin irritation gets so bad.

About one person in five is immune to poison ivy. But even such a person may come down with it if the exposures are fre-

The usual guilty plants are called poison ivv. western poison oak, oak leaf poison ivy and poison sumac. The poison oak and ivy plants have three leaflets. Therefore the old adage: "Leaves of three, let it be." Poison sumac bears anywhere from 7-13 leaflets. The poison in these various leaves is called "urushiol." It is a powerful substance that often is carried unseen on golf clubs. shoes, garden tools -- or even on it! If you're susceptible it won't be long before you'll be breaking out - and wondering where you got poison ivy. You'll probably be saying: "I wasn't even near it. I've been very careful!

If you are especially sensitive you can even get poison ivy by burning a log in your fireplace that has some poison vines attached to it. In minor attacks the skin blushes slightly itches. In severe attacks, the skin blisters all over sometimes as arge as silver dollars) and the patient is an uncomfortable

'wreck'' for a few weeks. In some severe cases, hydrocortisone has been used to cut short on attack. Usually the treatment consists of lotions, or ointments which your doctor will prescribe During the past few years many doctors have been using injections of poison ivy vaccine, not only as a preventative, but in actual treatment. Results vary.

And lately I have been hearing of tablets taken by mouth which are supposed to protect people from poison ivy. I have had no personal experience in their use. you are a yearly victim of poison ivy, why not ask your doctor what success he has had with them.

But perhaps there's a method in the madness.

In the months preceding the D-Day landing in Normandy on June 6, 1944, the enormity of the military build-up in Britain made things difficult to hide.

So the British decided to let the Germans know everything - or almost everything. This virtually overwhelmed the facilities of German intelligence officers who found themselves inundated with mountains of reports all requiring expert attention and analysis. They found themselves with so much information that it became difficult to evaluate what they themselves already knew and just what was worth knowing anyway.

Daily Devotional

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all the earth: make a loud noise and rejoice and sing praise. - Psalm 98:4.

We are often inclined to hide even our weak faith. But the Lord expects us to speak out in the presence of those who are not Christian. He expects us to be recruiters and missionaries and happy in our religious life. One the ways of testifying, of course, when faith is too weak for us to be personal evangelists. is to at least go to church, take part in the service and sing even if our singing is only a joy ful "noise." And, we can also give liberally and joyfully.

Father, help us to be overt Christians, faithful in our church attendance and not ashamed of the Gospel, In Christ's name we ask. Amen.

Columnist Thinks American People Should Support Program

In the days since the summit collapse, surely millions of Americans the nation over have wondered in anger and frustration,

"What can I do to help now?" One erucially important thing you can do is to make clear to Congress that you want no backtracking whatsoever now on our mutural security program - and that you insist it vote all the eash necessary to back up the foreign aid program that was written into law and signed by President Eisenhower on the eve of his departure for Paris.

If Congress does note this cash quickly and decisively, it will tell our allies in unmistakable terms that in this key area of our foreign policy, we have a firm course and we're following it.

It will assure the underdevel oped and uncommitted nations of the globe that we recognize how desperate is their struggle for advancement and that we fittend to continue to help them achieve higher living standards without sacrificing their independence.

It will smash home to Russia the message that we know she is fighting an intensifying economic war with us all over the globe and that we are ready and prepared to right back.

A third reason for the opposition is the feeling of disenchant. ances in the North Atlantic and ment with the results of the program, the belief that foreign aid is not being adjusted to today's

Eyes Over Reds

U.S. Must Maintain Air Surveillance Over Russa, China

going to have to maintain aerial surveillance over the Soviet Union and, perhaps, over Commu-

the ability or the resolution for thes. The sensors would extend aerial reconnaissance. Today, we the scuspivity of the search aphave Air Force planes capable of doing the ticklish job with reasonable efficiency - and we perform with even better promise of keeping the Reds constant ly under watch

Theoretically, the best on-the beat police plane would be a nuclear - powered aircraft. Its endurance, like that of the atomic submarines, would be indefinite Its size would permit a large and useful assortment of conforment for photographic, radar and infrered instruments But, alas, the nuclear ered aircraft has been pushed aside for other projects and its completion is not in sight. The next best plane for aerial photography is the North American B-70. Its program was also slowed by budget - trimming, but the plane is expected to fly by 1962 - and with some expedited programing, its operational availability could be moved up.

Although next - best, the B-70 is very 200d indeed. It this at no. 000 feet - which is 30,000 feet higher than current bombers are flying. It travels at Mach 3 which means that it could cross the "waist" of confinental Russia in about one hour. General Thomas White, Air Force chief of staff, indicated to congressional committees that the B-70, while designed as a supersonic bomber, is the near-ideal for use as a reconnaissance plane. It is employable as an unarmed craft for "peaceful" reconnaiseance, or it could be used for strike reconnaissance in wartime. Force officials summarize the B-70's utility as follows:

1. By carrying a reconnais-sance package instead of bombs, the plane is capable of a three-fold mission - straight acrial photography, "ferreting" and radar - infrared detection. Pietures from 80,000 feet might not sound promising for detailed military intelligence, but the require ment of photographic equipment for the Air Force is quoted by those who know as being five to ten times superior to anything in commercial use. Your reporter was shown photographs taken at this altitude and found them little different from others taken at 40,000. A "ferret" mission is one for scouting out the electromagretic radiations of the enemy. Radar and infrared detection involve picture-taking and map - making that are not deterred by weather or night.

2. By relatively minor moditications, such as removing the bomb-bays and the bombing devices, the B-70 could take on much more equipment and be come far more effective in reconnaissance. For instance, the eam-

Aerial reconnaissance is the practical peace - keeper of our times. Where treaties are broken and promises fail, the remeseless eye or photography is the only true recorder of what the enemy is getting ready to do. One B-70 accepti can cover the whole periphery of the Soviet Union in 15 flying hours. With in-flight re fueling, the trip could be nonstop. With a fleet of these planes on patrol, and with occasional and unapologetic penetrations to check on suspicious activities, we could deprive the wily and unconscionable Reds of their major military advantage — the advan-

Here is a case of Russia smarting over wounds of the past and trying to throw this country in an equally bad light. Following the Hungarian uprising in 1956, Russian troops with heavy artillery invaded that country in order to rush the revolt. Subsequent action in the United Nations branded Soviet Russia an aggressor.

Since that time, Russia has had little use for the United Nations and her loss in prestige was felt keenly by the Kremlin. Now, they are pressing for a similar label to be pinned on the United States,

Idleness, ease and license probable have caused more juvenile delinquency than all other fancied problems combined.

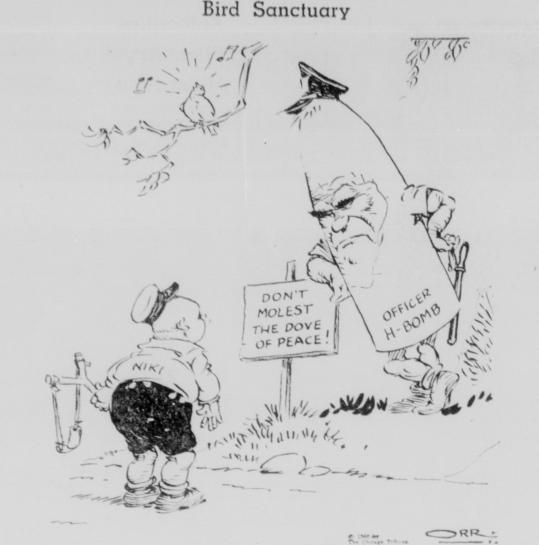

In words that are filled with truth, Shane McCarthy, executive director of the President's Council on Youth Fitness, said:

Youth wants discipline and adults give them ease. Youth craves activity and adults manufacture idleness for them.

sing praise. — Psalm 98:4. We are often inclined to hide ven our weak faith. But the Lord expects us to speak out in the presence of those who are not Christian. He expects us to be recruiters and missionaries and happy in our religious life. One of the ways of testifying, of course, when faith is too weak for us to be personal evangelists is to at least go to church, take part in the service and sing even if our singing is only a joy-ful "noise." And, we can also give liberally and joyfully.

Father, help us to be overt Christians, faithful in our church attendance and not ashamed of the Gospel. Christ's name we ask. Amen

Boosts For Aid

Columnist Thinks American People Should Support Program

In the days since the summit collapse, surely millions of Amer-icans the nation over have wondered in anger and frustration,

"What can I do to help now?" One crucially important thing you can do is to make clear to Congress that you want no backtracking whatsoever now on our mutural security program — and that you insist it vote all the cash necessary to back up the foreign aid program that was written into law and signed by President parture for Paris.

If Congress does vote this cash quickly and decisively, it will tell our allies in unmistakable terms that in this key area of our foreign policy, we have a firm course and we're following it.

It will assure the underdevel oped and uncommitted nations of the globe that we recognize how desperate is their struggle for advancement and that we intend to continue to help them achieve higher living standards without sacrificing their indepen-

Mack Hunt got the Vols off to a flying start in the opening inning when he followed Robert Mercer Perkins' two - bagger with an inside - the - park home run. It was his second bomer of the season.

But Bastrop's Bobo Thompson ettled down, yielding only one ther run before shifting to left field in the sixth with a commanding 13-3 advantage.

George Fruge and catcher Tufy Antley followed Esters on the cound for the Vols but the avaanche of errors handcuffed the nectiveness of both.

Cramer Haas Golf Tourney

Nichols Wins

Curtis Nichols shot a net 68 playoff to win the 10th annual Cramer Haas Memorial golf tournament at Bayou DeSiard

Country Club. The 18-hole, medal playoff pitted Nichols against two other division winners, Bobby Garrett and Billy Brown. Garret placed second with 77 and Brown third with 78.

Defending champion Dr. Roy Ledbetter was eliminated by Brown in an earlier round. Brown's other victims included Phil Rosamond, Henry Hinkle, Branton Kellogg and Nat Spencer.

Nichols' earlier victories came over C. T. Munholland, John Sherrouse, O. L. Mc-Clary, Bill Jones and Roy Skillman. Garrett beat Ken Abington, Sonny Harper, Cam Minard, Lester High and Bob

Ewing in preliminary play. A total of 96 golfers competed in the annual affair.

Buddy Hamic Heads List Of 58 All-State Trackmen

By Bill McINTYRE

The Shreveport Times Written for the Louisiana Sports Writers Assn.

A tremendous 58-man squad, headed by Garland Buddy" Hamic of Crowley, features the 8th annual of ficial Louisiana Sports Writers Assn. All-State track and field team, as determined by performances during the 1960 season.

Hamic, a virtual unknown in field events during the 1959 campaign, made up for the slight by making this year's squad in three individual events—the shot put, javelin and discus.

The Crowley Gent ranked first among statewide entries in the shot, second in the javelin and third in the discus.

Hamic barged into the shot put lead with a heroic 53-9 toss of the iron ball at the state Class AA meet, just one day after a 207-6½ throw of the javelin had moved him into second place among the spear-tossers.

and Hank Anderson in "double event" status.

Only 10 of this year's 58-man squad reported back for repeat performances. Also on the 1959 all-state roster were Thompson, Higginbotham, Grigsby, Davis, Lake Charles' Charles Nash, Lafayette's Edward Red, Neville's Joe Cage, Homer's Jimmy Andrews, Bolton's Burton Gaar and Ruston's John Porter.

Grigsby, Davis and Porter squeezed into last year's squad as relaymen only.

MULTI-ROOM FEDDERS AIR CONDITIONER CAN COOL AN ENTIRE HOUSE OR APARTMENT

If you're planning to buy an air conditioner this summer, why not enjoy air conditioning's newest, biggest benefit-multi-room cooling?

Your Fedders dealer has a whole selection of 11/2-HP and 2-HP multi-room air conditioners. There are models to cool the largest living-dining-kitchen area...an upper floor...adjoining bedrooms ... even an entire home where there's unimpeded room-to-room air circulation. There's also a 115-volt model delivering a full ton of cooling (12,000 BTU's*) that's ideal for apartment dwellers since it doesn't require costly 230-volt re-wiring.

They all employ twin-cylinder compressors, use heavy-duty cooling coils (up to five rows). They pack this multi-room cooling power into handsome Thin...and Low cabinets that are smaller than many ordinary room air conditioners.

Small price tag, too. They deliver more cooling per dollar than any other air conditioner you can buy. So why jail your family in a single air conditioned room this summer?
